

BEAL Cobra II 8.6MM

Beal |

A must have for adventure terrain.

A light, fluid and versatile half rope for all mountain sports. The COBRA II rope is the classic half rope for adventure terrain, designed to be an excellent compromise between strength and lightness, this rope is perfect for big wall climbing, crag climbing and mountaineering. It is characterized by its low impact force and resistance to a high number of falls. Also, the rope does not swell and stays flexible longer. It is also worth noting that it allows you to escape on rappel even if the sheath is cut thanks to the UNICORE technology.

A true classic reinforced by UNICORE technology

Already technically complex and robust enough to withstand the most demanding conditions, it is now reinforced by all the advantages of the UNICORE technology. This technology makes the core and the sheath of the rope integral for greater resistance to friction and increased safety.
